

Field Support

Coastline has the knowledge and expertise to ensure that your power systems products are integrated seamlessly into your installation.

Let us show you the Coastline difference – our team of experienced professionals can go directly to your site and assist with all of your power system needs or questions.

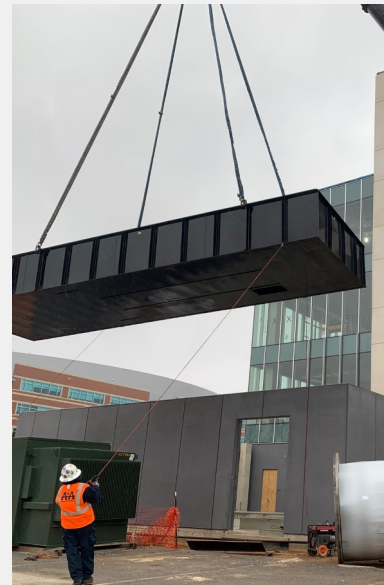

Comprehensive Field Support

- Site evaluation and generator sizing.
- Setting generator enclosures, switchgear enclosures, and tanks (assistance with anchoring to pad.)
- Site integration of ship loose components.
- After-sale component installation, or component replacement installation.
- Coastline will also consider all requests for after-sales field assistance.

The Right Team

- Experienced engineers, draftsmen and technicians to get the job done correctly, the first time.
- Proper equipment and safety trained personnel you'll have confidence in.
- Industry protocols are strictly followed.
- Local and national electrical and mechanical codes are carefully followed.
